

Standing on promises, from Christ my King,

through all eternity, his praise shall ring,
'Glory to highest heaven!' I'll shout and sing;
Joyful security his promises bring!

Standing on promises, words that can't fail
when in the storms of doubt, dark fears assail,
my hope is anchored fast, within the veil;
sure in his living word, I'll always prevail!

*Promises old, promises true
Sealed by the Saviour for me!
Touched by his grace, forever I'll be
Standing secure in God's promise to me.*

Standing on promises, now I can see through Jesus' precious blood, cleansing for me;
purchased for liberty, Christ sets me free,
'pardoned eternally', God's promised decree!

Standing on promises, from Christ the Lord,
bound to him evermore by love's strong cord;
the Spirit's present help, grace to afford,
daily I'll overcome, by wielding his sword!

*Promises old, promises true
Sealed by the Saviour for me!
Touched by his grace, forever I'll be
Standing secure in God's promise to me.*

Standing on promises, I cannot fall;
resting in Jesus Christ, my all in all,
hearing his words of love, his Spirit's call raising me heavenwards, whatever befall!

*Promises old, promises true
Sealed by the Saviour for me!
Touched by his grace, forever I'll be
Standing secure in God's promise to me.*

William J.U. Philip (2008; after R. Kelso Carter, 1886)

Tune: Beauty for Brokenness